Marief Fiori, MBA, is a journalist, translator, educator and entrepreneur. She co-founded and is the managing editor of the Bard-sponsored La Voz, which is the only Spanish language print publication serving the 140,000 Latinos in the Mid-Hudson Valley and Catskill regions since 2004. She co-hosts a weekly Spanish language news radio show for WGXC and WHDD, and is a bilingual business counselor and instructor with Women Enterprise Development Center Mid-Hudson Valley.

Fiori holds an MBA from NYU and a bachelor's degree from Bard College. Before coming to the United States in 2003, she lived and worked in Spain and Buenos Aires, her hometown, where she earned a degree in journalism at the Catholic University of Argentina. She has worked for a variety of media groups in Argentina, Spain and the United States.

Marief has been the recipient of many prestigious awards, the latest in August 2017 when she was an honoree at the Northern Dutchess NAACP 2nd Annual Freedom Banquet. She is a member of many organizations including AAUW and has served on various boards.

"Accepting the status quo is not part of my blood, my upbringing or my background. We need to use whatever tools we possess, be it education, network, time or money, to help improve the part of the world where we live. In my case, I do it through my passion for communications", —Marief Fiori.
